Career Summary

Hi, my name is Milan. I'm a Web Developer/Musician based in Melbourne, Australia.

I love bringing to life aesthetic and fully customized software solutions to real life business problems for my clients. I have a keen focus on Design and UX but I tend to prioritize functionality and business logic when necessary.

From my broad experiences in the Music Industry I've been given a deep understanding of the creative process, and a holistic view on the product lifecycle and reaching consumers.

I'm a natural communicator and I focus on achieving results.

I look forward to talking to you!
